Purpose of the Organization:

We are a grassroots organization made up of volunteers who are dedicated to fighting pediatric cancer. We are uniquely placed to make a difference through medical and clinical research. Our ambition is for a future without cancers. Our sole purpose is to raise funds for childhood cancer research and our mission is to find cures.

Purpose for which the contributions are used:

Money will be distributed to US doctors and researchers who are working on cutting edge treatments. Examples of donation allocation are: -Clinical grants that are aimed at research that is at the required point of development to be progressed from laboratory to patient -Fellowship grants to develop researchers into a principle investigator -Explorer grants that allow researchers to undertake a more substantial project or theme of research -Idea grants to support pilot

Major Program activities:

Our funds will support a collaborative effort by medical institutions and researchers who are focused on curing childhood cancer. The Childhood Cancer Project funds scientific research activities, specifically clinical research as well as translational and pilot research. Grants will be used to fund early, middle and late stage research specifically to institutions who have research teams that are developing novel research ideas in childhood oncology and immunology.
